JOURNAL OF CRIME AND CRIMINAL BEHAVIOR

Journal of Crime and Criminal Behavior has an established group of reviewers and we are currently seeking submissions for this journal. The focus of this journal is on criminal, aberrant, and deviant behavior. Submissions related to social norms, mores, and standards are welcome, as are submissions related to the prevention of adult criminal and/or juvenile delinquent behavior. Submissions related to treatment programming for criminal behavior, offenders with psychiatric disorders, and/or substance use disorders are a good fit with the scope and intent of this journal, as well. Submissions related to law enforcement as it is juxtaposed with these types of topics are also invited.

Submission of Manuscripts

Journal of Crime and Criminal Behavior: An International Journal has an established group of reviewers and we are currently seeking submissions for this journal. If you know of anyone interested in submitting a manuscript to this journal, please have them send their potential submission to Robert D. Hanser at editorjccb@gmail.com

The submission will be forwarded to the associate editors so that the submission can be placed under review. Potential authors should allow 4 to 6 weeks for the review process to be completed before making further inquiries as to acceptance of a particular manuscript.

All manuscripts must be submitted in APA format. You can access APA documentation here. Please follow APA guidelines for Manuscript Preparation, including title page for blind review, referencing, and tables and figures. All manuscripts will undergo blind review by two or more reviewers. Each manuscript must be accompanied by a statement that it has not been published elsewhere and that it has not been submitted simultaneously for publication elsewhere. Authors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce copyrighted material from other sources and are required to sign an agreement for the transfer of copyright to the publisher. Rights of manuscripts, artwork, and photographs have to be transferred to the publisher, upon the acceptance of the paper for final publication. CCB welcomes articles throughout the year. The CCB encourages quality scholarship articles from relevant academic disciplines as well as from practitioners in the private and public sector. CCB is receptive to scholarship coming from a variety of theoretical perspectives and methodological approaches. All research should be understood and examined through a transnational perspective. Articles previously published or submitted for publication in any other journal will not be accepted.

All articles must be grounded on relevant and recent scholarship in the fields of our interest. The minimum page length is fifteen pages (5000 words). The maximum length should not exceed twenty five pages (8000 words), including references, footnotes and illustrations. References should conform to the mode specified in APA Style.

The second page should contain the title of the paper, abstract, Keywords. The abstract should not exceed 150 words (100 – 150 words). Keywords are up to five.
